

Exclusive Guest appearance from West End!

Relatively Speaking

by
Alan Ayckbourne

From March 7th until March 28th, The Maxim Theatre in Stockholm is honored to present a comedy play straight from West End London.

The play, Alan Ayckbourne's Relatively Speaking, is known as a hilarious and witty comedy. It has been played on theatres all over the world and is remembered as Alan Ayckbourne's first "West End Hit".

Synopsis of the play:

Greg and Ginny are in love and planning to be married. Greg finds a strange pair of slippers under the bed and is too besotted to believe they might have been left by another man (which would also explain the bunches of flowers and boxes of sweets filling Ginny's apartment).

When Ginny goes off for a day in the country, supposedly to visit her parents but actually to break things off with her older married lover, Philip, Greg decides to follow her. Showing up unannounced before Ginny, Greg asks for her hand from the man he thinks is her father, while Philip mistakenly believes that the strange young man is asking permission to marry Sheila, Philip's exceedingly befuddled wife.

Once Ginny arrives, she convinces Philip to play the role of her father. Meanwhile, Greg still believes that Sheila is Ginny's mother. The situation is further complicated by a series of hilarious misunderstandings until no one (including the audience) can be exactly sure who's in love with whom.

Don't miss this opportunity to experience West End right here in Stockholm.

Tickets are available at Delta Productions Tel: 08-55008890, E-mail: info@deltaproductions.se
Skådebanan price #1. 250 sek / person (7th - 14th Mars)
Skådebanan price #2 340 sek / person (15th - 28th Mars)

More info about the play can be found at:
www.deltaproductions.se

